Short text (about 200 words) for the promotion of the ECML event, the project and the envisaged publication with a focus on the benefits for target groups. This text should be provided in your national language(s) to be used for dissemination (on websites, for journals etc.).

The ECML project “Learning Environments where Modern Languages Flourish” is a European network of 70 partner schools in 13 countries. Participants have developed innovative approaches to establishing language-friendly learning environments in their respective schools. These approaches are captured in an action plan, framed within an EOL-Matrix designed to orientate schools in identifying their priorities and strengths as they set out to create conditions that will lead to the flourishing of languages and to strengthening plurilingual and intercultural competences.

Participants will be supported in the planning and implementation of their action plans by a project team and a repertoire of planning tools, memos and resources hosted on a working platform. Communication spaces such as the forum will allow participants to interact, exchange experiences and upload their own resources which will be shared within the project network.

Participants will work towards developing a masterplan that will widen the scope of the project to achieve a whole school language policy. It will aim to put languages at the heart of learning. It will actively promote multilingualism and plurilingualism. It will pursue strategies that favour intercultural education and encounters. It will seek to impact school ethos, climate, planning and organization so that issues of diversity, inclusion and interculturality are effectively addressed at institutional level.
