Participant's report to the National Nominating Authority and the National Contact Point

Meeting report

In the three weeks after the event, please complete this report. It contains two sections:

1. Reporting: this is intended as a feedback on the event, on what was learnt, on how the event will affect your work and on how it will be disseminated. In addition to the ECML National Nominating Authority and the National Contact Point in your country the ECML will use the report[1] in the "Experts involved in ECML activities" section of each ECML member state website (please see http://contactpoints.ecml.at).

   This section should be written in one of the project's working languages.

2. Public information: this is intended as an information on the ECML project and its expected value for your country. The content should be of interest for a larger audience. Thus it should link up to interesting publications, websites, events etc. which were discussed on the occasion of the workshop or which are relevant in your country. The public information should be a short, promotional text of about 200 words.

   This section should be written in (one of) your national language(s).

The completed file should be sent to

● the ECML National Nominating Authority and the National Contact Point in your country (contact details can be found at http://www.ecml.at/aboutus/members.asp)

● and in copy to ECML Secretariat (Erika.komon@ecml.at)

within the given deadline.

Title of ECML project	Learnin Environments where Modern Language Flourish
ECML project website	https://www.ecml.at/ECML-Programme/Programme2016-2019/Learningenvironmentswhereforeignlanguagesflourish/tabid/1865/language/en-GB/Default.aspx
Date of the event	21-22 March 2018
Brief summary of the content of the workshop	It was a workshop meeting to look into all the tools available in the project in order to create a project in our context. Participants came from about 15 countries and we had a first meeting to look into some EoI projects done by schools so to have examples. Second meeting we discuss on the efficiency of the grid system. Third meeting we discuss on the evaluation system. In conclusion other good example of language projects were presented to the participants.
What did you find particularly useful?	I think firstly, that meeting and networking with the other participants was the most important part, to be able to know about others projects and learn what it is happening in other environments. Secondly, the discussion on the evaluation system was particularly interesting.
How will you use what you learnt / developed in the event in your professional context?	I have immediately shared the information with the supervisor, manager and colleagues of my school, to share the idea of the project how to develop and environment where language flourish working all together and creating connection between the languages departments, because this was not happening in my school. And we thought of projects to develop according to the good examples I have seen during the meeting and I am trying to show all the tools available for teachers developed by ECML.
How will you further contribute to the project?	With my colleagues we are developing projects for the next school year and I am going to share information on the forum of the EOL project.

How do you plan to disseminate the project? - to colleagues - to a professional association - in a professional journal/website - in a newspaper - other	I expect to share the results among colleagues of other schools here in Istanbul and I might also write an article for the web.

2. Public information
Short text (about 200 words) for the promotion of the ECML event, the project and the envisaged publication with a focus on the benefits for target groups. This text should be provided in your national language(s) to be used for dissemination (on websites, for journals etc.).
I have really appreciated the workshop meeting at the ECML for the EOL project Learning Environments where Modern Language Flourish, because I had the opportunity to learn about other colleagues in Europe, to know better all the tools available at ECML and it was important to understand how the EOL project was developed and how to use the tools. Networking part and learning from good examples was also a very important part of the workshop to share common problems/solutions and creativity. An relevant part of the meeting of March was the discussion with the other participants on the tools created for the EOL project and the evaluation system, so that as teacher that will use the tools and will be evaluated we could understand and be part of the developing of the project. Moreover, it was rewarding listen to and give opinions. The meeting was also very valuable to learn about all the tools available at the ECML and the variety of opportunities to develop language projects. Especially for the context where I work, this could be very helpful to improve the language environments to more European and international standards.
