What did you find particularly useful?	Information about the real situation in other European countries. How others develop their sign language, what methods they use, what difficulties they face.
How will you use what you learnt / developed in the event in your professional context?	Regarding to the Latvian reality for ELP and CEFR could successfully be applied, it should take place on two levels. First, information about this learning tools should be spread among the people, showing its potential benefits for the deaf community. As well it should be implemented at national level, involving the relevant instances, because activities of a small group of people will not be enough to realize it.
