| Date of the event | 15th and 16th March 2023 |
| Brief summary of the content of the workshop | We discussed the ways how young learners' plurilingual and multicultural background can be involved in a language classroom. Different approaches and activities were introduced which could be used as resources for pre-primary and primary school teachers. A special note was given to three aspects which are involved in a language classroom, i.e., observation, assessment and documentation. The participants discussed their role in a successful language learning and diverse methods of performing them in the classroom. |
| What did you find particularly useful? | To become acquainted with how children's plurilingual knowledge can be used in the acquisition of a foreign language and whether it's worth to use it. To learn about different classroom practices related to plurilingual background of the learners. |
| How will you use what you learnt / developed in the event in your professional context? | Since I teach at university, there are students in my groups who are pre-service primary teachers, so I'm willing to share my knowledge about what I've learnt with them. Some of my colleagues are also nursery educators who give lessons of English to nursery children. So I will acquaint them with the materials which were introduced during the seminar. |
| How will you further contribute to the project? | I'd be very much interested in researching the Lithuanian pre-primary and primary learners' experience and needs in an English classroom from the perspective of their plurilingual and multicultural background. I'd like test how the project resources work in the Lithuanian classroom setting. |

| 2. Public information Dabartinių Europos kalbų centras Graz'e (Austrija) seminaro PALINGUI: Making young children's language learning pathways visible (aged 3 – 12) (PALINGUI: Atskleidžiant jaunuju (3 – 12 metų) besimokančiųjų kalbų mokymosi kelius) metu buvo pristatyta projekto PALINGUI medžiaga ir kuriamo tinklalapio turinys, kuris galėtų tapti mokymo ištekliais, mokant 3 – 12 metų vaikus užsienio kalbos/-ų. Seminaro metu buvo pabrėžiama besimokančiųjų daugiakalbės ir daugiakultūrės patirties įtraukimo ir panaudojimo svarba. Tai buvo pagrindžiama teigiamos patirties pavyzdžiais. Atskleista, kad jaunuju besimokančiųjų gimtosios ir kitų, su kuriomis yra vaikai susidurę, kalbų žinios gali žymiai prisidėti prie mokymosi proceso sékmės. Pabrėžta, kad vaikai ypač linkę susieti savo gimtąją kalbą (šeimos kalbą) bei kitas vartojanamas kalbas su užsienio kalba, kurios yra mokoma mokykloje ar darželyje. Tai gali prisidėti prie besimokančiajam artimos aplinkos sukūrimo pamokoje ir padaryti ją patrauklia. Seminaro dalyviai susipažino su įrankiais, kurie galėtų būti naudojami kalbų pamokose, vykdant mokinį stebėjimą (observation), vertinimą (assessment) ir dokumentaciją (documentation). Buvo dalijamasi patirtimi ir idėjomis, kokie įrankiai galėtų pasitarnauti įtraukiant mokinį daugiakalbius gebėjimus, mokant antrosios/ trečiosios užsienio kalbos. Taip pat buvo akcentuojamas mokytojo vaidmuo ir jo/jos suvokimas apie besimokančiųjų daugiakalbės ir daugiakultūrės patirties bei gebėjimų panaudojimą mokymo procese. Dalyviai pažymėjo, kad ši mokymo perspektyva yra nauja ir daugeliui pedagogų yra nepažįstama. Įvairiose šalyse yra atvejų, kuomet mažumos kalba arba tiesiog kalba, kuri nėra valstybinė, yra ignoruojama, ko pasékoje vaikai jaučiasi atstumti. Projekto tikslas yra pakeisti šią vienos kalbos dominavimo mokykloje tradiciją, sukuriant išteklius, kurių pagalba pedagogai atskleistų jaunuju besimokančiųjų daugiakalbes ir daugiakultūrės kompetencijas ir įtrauktų jas į užsienio kalbos mokymo/si procesą. | |
