The role of member states

Representatives ...

- identified thematic priorities for the new programme;
- adopted the projects;
- monitor the implementation of the projects;
- select participants to the workshops
- disseminate information on the projects on a national level

The relevance of your project and the added value for member states needs to be communicated in an effective way.

What did you find particularly useful?

the main point of the project at first did not seem to fit exactly to the Greek context. But, while the Workshop was unfolding, I discovered a lot of things and ideas we could possibly adopt in our training people in Vocational Schools, who may work in Greece or abroad with people coming from different linguistic/cultural backgrounds and thus have to be inter-culturally competent in order that they can cooperate harmonically and fruitfully.

How do you plan to disseminate the project?

How will you use what you learnt / developed in the event in your professional context?

How will you further contribute to the project?
