EUROPEAN CENTRE FOR MODERN LANGUAGES
CENTRE EUROPEEN POUR
LES LANGUES VIVANTES

COUNCIL OF EUROPE
CONSEIL DE L'EUROPE

Are you involved in education, perhaps as a learner, parent, trainee teacher, teacher, teacher educator or inspector? Are you looking for information and inspiring ideas in the areas of education for democratic citizenship, human rights and the contribution language education makes to these wider fields?

If so, why not arrange a visit to the ECML, based in Graz, Austria?

EN

In our Communication and Resource Centre, we can introduce you to the ECML and the wider Council of Europe and provide input according to your specific needs. Some examples are listed in this leaflet or, of course, you can simply tell us what you are looking for.

For school pupils

- Youth activities at the Council of Europe
- Why language learning matters and ideas to celebrate the European Day of Languages (EDL)

For language educators

- European developments in language education; resources for the classroom, for teacher development and for EDL

- Our collection of European Language Portfolios (ELP) and different language versions of the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages (CEFR)

For primary and secondary teacher and trainee teachers

Classroom materials for human rights and democratic citizenship education

For researchers in language education

The John Trim collection of almost 11.000 resources - documenting the work of the Council of Europe on languages between 1971 and 1997

Meet language experts

The ECML welcomes on a regular basis language experts from across Europe and beyond. Visit www.ecml.at/grazevents to find out about opportunities to hear them talk about their work and experiences.

Visit the centre

If you would like to visit the centre, please fill in the form at www.ecml.at/visit and we will do our best to ensure your visit is a fulfilling experience.
