

CHAGAL in ACTION!

European curriculum guidelines for access programmes into higher education for under-represented adult learners

Content of the CD-Rom

HOME

Introduction
Acknowledgements

Curriculum GUIDELINES

1. First Guideline
2. Second Guideline
3. Third Guideline
4. Fourth Guideline
5. Fifth Guideline
6. Sixth Guideline
7. Seventh Guideline
8. Eighth Guideline
9. Ninth Guideline
10. Tenth Guideline
11. Eleventh Guideline
12. Twelfth Guideline

Student CENTREDNESS

How to develop and implement student-centred course curricula

1. Student-centred course curriculum development
2. Traditional curriculum development vs student-centred curriculum
3. Content selection and priority setting
4. Teaching methods
5. Evaluation
6. The support teachers need
7. Advantages of a student-centred curriculum
8. Literature

THEORY into PRACTICE

1. The CHAGAL Guidelines for preparatory institutions
2. Chagal Guidelines & teaching Chinese students: theory into practice

CHAGAL in ACTION

22 examples from 9 different European countries categorised into the following five groups according to orientation:

1. Social and cultural learning
2. Content oriented examples
3. Language- and study skills
4. Student support
5. Other contributions

PROJECT INFO

CHAGAL focuses on two main objectives
Putting the "CHAGAL Curriculum Guidelines" into practice

CHAGAL RECIPE BOOK

18 recipes for learner-focused teaching throughout Europe

CHEF'S SUGGESTIONS BY HANNES VOGLER

What does "Educational Cooking with CHAGAL" mean?

Ingredients
Preparation
Would you like to know more?

TO THE 18 RECIPES

THE MENU

Hors d'Oeuvres

To whet your appetite, why not try one of the following recipes...

Learners come with a background
Training sessions for a change of career

Main course

You could try one of the following recipes in language learning...

Mountaineering in the Netherlands
Playing the role of a doctor in the classroom
Study skills through social learning
Learning without a teacher
Grammar & Psychology
Finding friends made simple!
Languages tailored to engineers
Other countries – other customs

Side dishes

Why not try one of the following recipes to round off your language training...

Learn public speaking in 3 days
Presentation as a subject for a subject
Fearless in front of the projector!
Student self assessment

Dessert

In addition to language training, why not try one of the following recipes...

English and mathematics are not enemies
Songs as the mirror of a nation
Bad manners throughout the world
A city becomes the classroom

